

Global Inequality & Change

Department of Sociology University of California, Irvine

FACULTY

Stanley R. Bailey

Latin America, race and ethnicity, religion, US-Mexico border

Evan Schofer -- Comparative Political Sociology; Sociology of Education; Globalization and Global Culture; Environmental Sociology.

Nina Bandelj

economic sociology, organizations, culture, social networks, comparative sociology, central and eastern Europe

David A. Smith*

world systems analysis, urbanization, development, comparative-historical sociology, dependent development in east Asia

Catherine Bolzendahl

comparative welfare state research, gender inequality, family formation, and public opinion

David Snow

collective behavior and social movements, social psychology, urban, social problems, culture and qualitative methods

David John Frank

Globalization, Sexuality, The Natural Environment, Higher Education

Yang Su

Social Movements and Collective Action, Political Sociology, China's Political Transition

Ann Hironaka -- cultural logics of war; collective identity construction; institutional theory

Wang Feng

Contemporary demographic, economic, and social processes, social inequality in state socialisms, contemporary Chinese society

*Cluster coordinator

Two Year Teaching Plan (subject to change, check with the department or the cluster coordinator):

2005 - 2006

Fall

- Comparative Historical Sociological Methods (Stepan-Norris)
- Globalization and World-System (Smith)

Winter

- Global Networks (White)

Spring

- Comparative Contentious Politics (Su)
- Political Economic Globalization (Bello)

2006 - 2007

Fall

- Global Urbanization (Smith)

Winter

- Post-Communist Societies (Bandelj and Wang)

Spring

- Comparative Racial Perspectives: US vs. Latin America (Bailey)
- Global Social Institutions (Frank)